

Men at the Cross...

A Quick Report from Tony Harriman – October 12, 2009

My shoes are still warm from the run back from Fort Worth, Texas. Some of you will remember me making the announcement that we had received a request to provide copies of our MP3 CD version of Steps to Christ to be given away freely at an upcoming convention of Men at the Cross.

With help from some of you, Joshua Area Men's Ministry (JAMM—the people responsible for renting the booth and conducting the distribution at the event) raised the money to produce 3,000 copies of the MP3 CD. Early last Friday I drove the CDs out to Fort Worth and assisted with the setting up and giving away.

The turnout exceeded 1,500; short of the original 5,000 that were expected (because of varying factors; 50-degree weather didn't help), but nevertheless a good mix of men from teenage to octogenarian and everything in between. All the attendees came expecting to be fed and empowered in their Christian walk, and they were not disappointed. There were some great speakers; people experienced in the knocks of life. There were ministers, youth leaders, teachers and musicians. Some of the many booths offered teen camp adventures, music CDs, books giving testimony to changed lives, and more. At times during the meetings you have heard a pin drop, so in tune with the presentations were the audience. During the breaks an increasing number of people visited the JAMM booth and left with a bagful of good books, including the Steps to Christ MP3 CD, The Passion of Love book, and a DVD prepared by Amazing Facts entitled Final Events of Bible Prophecy.

Men at the Cross grew out of what you might remember as the Promise Keepers, and it was easy for me to see why their number increase. The organizers have hearts in all the right places—and the attendees can sense it. Several hundred of the teens approached the front of the hall to be blessed and empowered to live godly lives. It was touching to watch.

Joshua Area Men's Ministry are a group of very extraordinary ordinary guys, the bulk of whom attend Joshua Seventh-day Adventist Church. Joshua is a stone's throw from the Dallas/Fort Worth area. Listening to some of the stories from these fine gentlemen about how God has led them to do what they're doing, and how He has been opening doors for them to minister more broadly is warming to the soul. Their attendance at the Fort Worth convention was the latest in a series of meetings they have attended as exhibitors, so the organizers have had plenty of opportunity to watch them in their ministry. During this last meeting the Chief Operations Officer approached the Joshua guys and invited them to provide their materials as resources that might be given in bags to each of the attendees at the conventions. In other words, "We like what you've got and we'd like everyone attending to get some of it. We have 15 conventions each year, with an attendance of 45,000 men—and growing. You give us the material, and we'll get it into the hands of the men." This is a phenomenal opportunity.

The JAMM people are trying to raise the funds and materials for a Men at the Cross event in Dallas in November, and I want to encourage you to support their Ministry. Gifts of support can be sent to:

What Are They Listening to?

They're listening to MP3 files....

Some of them are listening to music; some are listening to motivational seminars, on-the-job training guides. Some of them are listening to last week's sermon, even audiobooks. What? A whole book in that little thing? Yes—the MP3 files are simply transferred from the MP3 CD to their player.

Give them another choice—

Steps to Christ, written by E.G. White and narrated by Tony Harriman, has been available in MP3 format for several years. This CD audiobook has enjoyed a wide audience, but we want to encourage, and enable, you to do more with it....
